Significance of International Literacy Day

Every year on September 8, people worldwide commemorate International Literacy Day (ILD). International Literacy Day is promoted by UNESCO in conjunction with governments, communities, and other organizations. At least 773 million adults worldwide lack basic literacy abilities today, despite advancements in the field. The goal of the day is to raise awareness of the importance of literacy in building a literate, intelligent, and sustainable society. Despite international efforts and initiatives to end illiteracy, literacy issues and impediments persist in our cultures. The fundamental goal of celebrating International Literacy Day is to make education more open, inclusive, and peaceful while also overcoming literacy barriers.

Event on "International Literacy Day, Department of Education, Bilasipara College"

This programme was organized by the Department of Education, Bilasipara College, especially keeping in mind to provide the importance of education for the development of a person and the nation too. It was conducted to help the students of the department and the school to guide them about the various ways to remove illiteracy from the society and to educate the people of our society for all round development of them.

The event was graced by the words of Hod, Department of Education, Bishnu Pada Roy Sir, who opened the minds of the students to the sea of opportunities out there for them and how to properly navigate the right path amidst the same. The students were then encouraged and inspired by the speech delivered by Priyasri Devi ma'am, Assistant Professor, Department of Education, who dealt with various relevant topics related to bring literacy in the society.

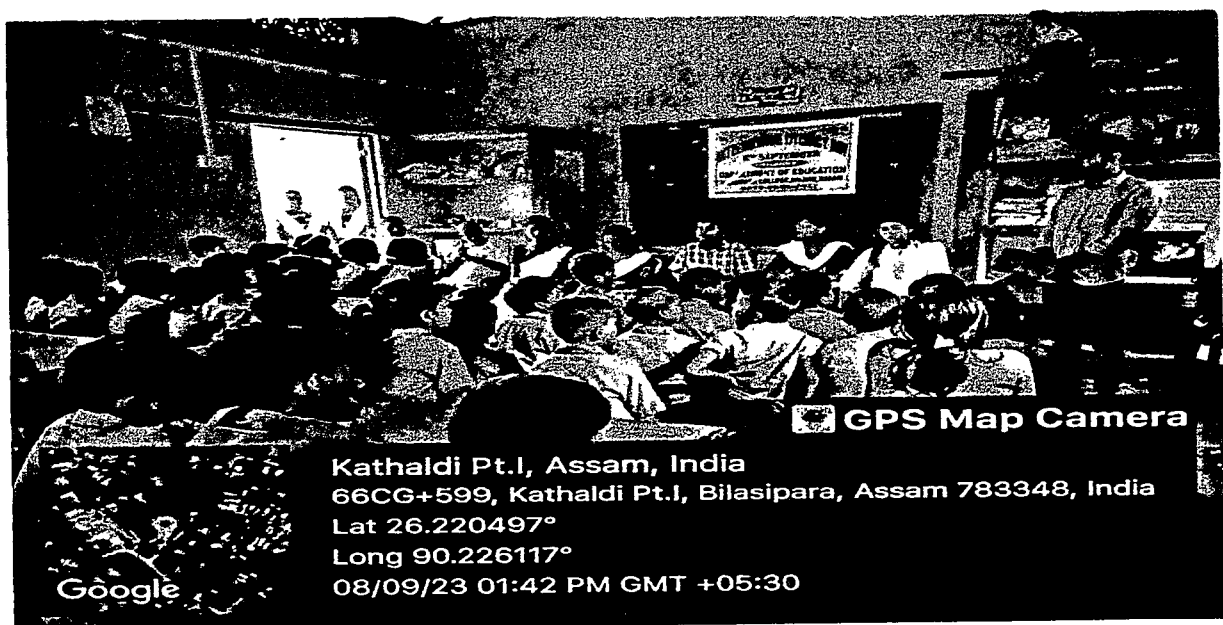

The head teacher and the other assistant teachers of the school also provide their valuable speech on literacy and various ways to remove illiteracy from the society. 1st, 3rd and 5th semester students of Department Of Education give their valuable speech on International Literacy Day and also about its significance. Class 5 students of the school sang song at the last .

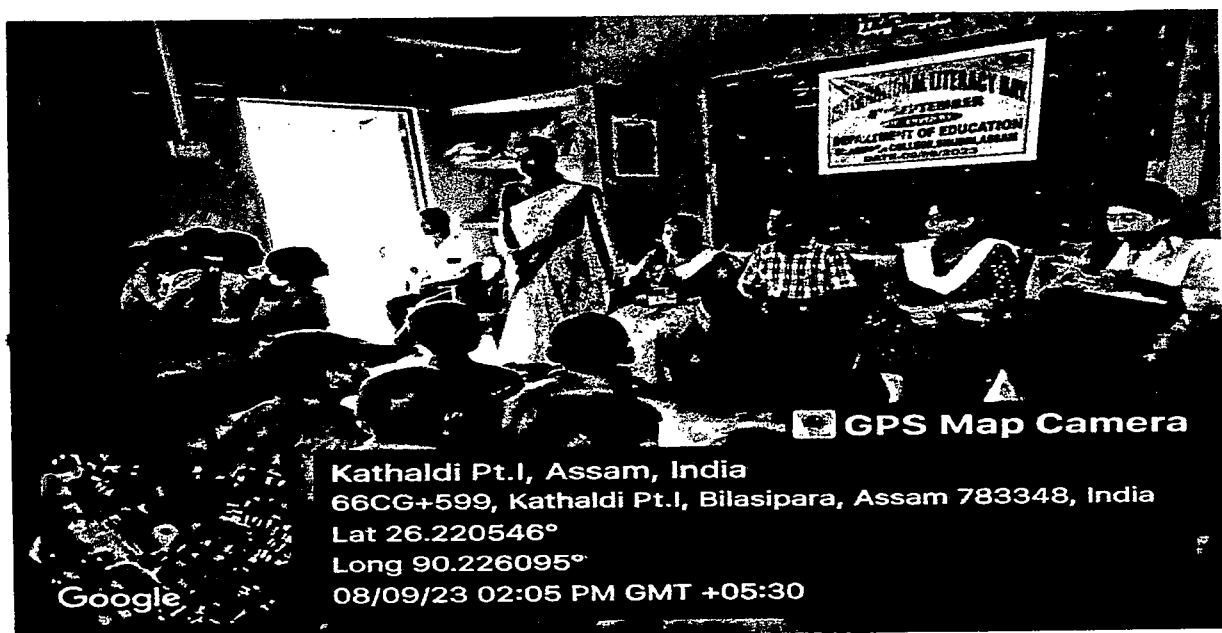

Gitishmita Chakraborty Assistant Professor, Department of Education, offered the vote of thanks to all the faculty members of the Department and School and the students present there. With this the programme formally came to an end.
