SIGNIFICANCE OF WORLD DEMOCRACY DAY

A democracy is a nation where the citizens are asked to express their opinions on how the government is governed. Things like elections and referendums are used to accomplish this. Democracy actually means "rule by the people." The International Day of Democracy's theme this year, "Empowering the next generation," emphasizes the importance of young people in strengthening democracy and making sure that their views are heard in choices that have a significant influence on their lives. Human rights can be effectively protected and realized in a democratic society. A democratic education aims to give students some control over their education so they can become more involved and accountable community members. A democratic education generally entails giving students more options in the classroom. Student involvement and achievement have been shown to rise with a democratic education. Additionally, because more opportunities are given to students to incorporate their interests into their learning, involvement is increased.

A democratic education gives students the chance to develop the skills they'll need to become involved and responsible members of society after they graduate, while also enhancing their academic achievement. This, it is claimed, enables children to carry out adult duties in a democratic society. Students will learn about their educational rights and obligations by participating in this program, and they will also be able to improve society and advance the country.

EVENT ON “A SPECIAL TALK ON THE OCCASION OF WORLD DEMOCRACY DAY ORGANISED BY DEPARTMENTS OF POLITICAL SCIENCE AND EDUCATION”

The Department of Education and Political Science at Bilasipara College put together this event with a focus on spreading varied knowledge and the value of democracy.

Dr. Biswajit Biswas Sir, the principal of Bilasipara College, attended the occasion and spoke motivational words to the students. The Hod of the Department of Education, Bishnu Pada Roy Sir, then addressed the gathering, introducing the pupils to the value of education and the sea of democratic concepts. Additionally, he highlights our nation's rights and obligations as well as the need of education in a democracy.

Hod from the Department of Political Science joined the event for more and spoke about democracy and how crucial it is to the growth of a state. He provided inspiration for the 2023 subject of empowering the next generation via democracy.

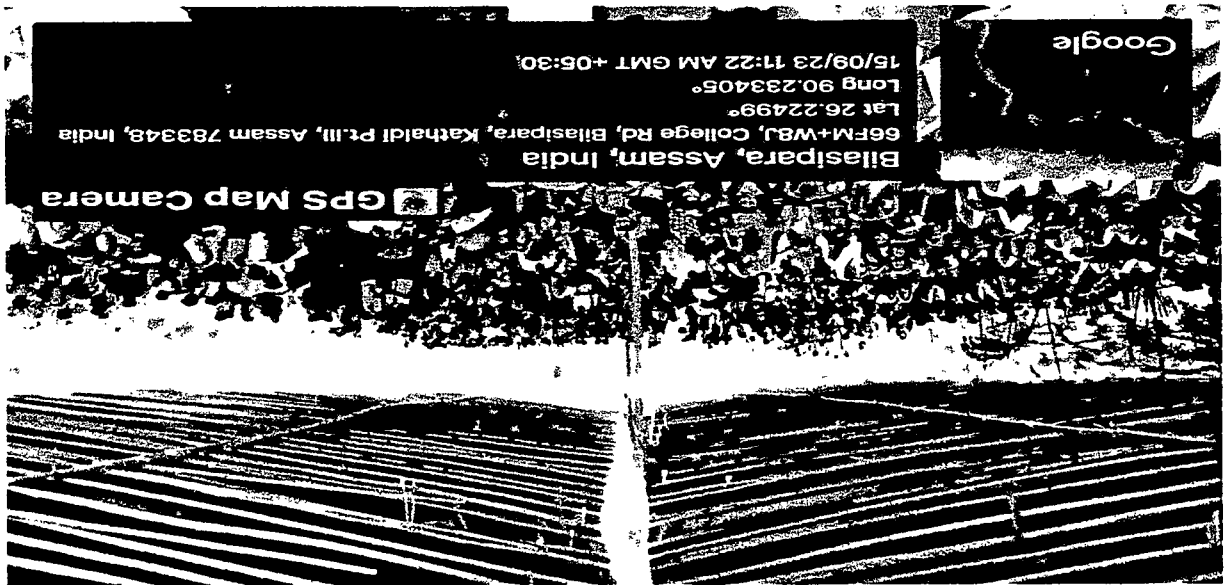

The esteemed Principal of Bilasipara College, the two departmental Hods, and the students present were thanked by Alimul Islam, a third-semester Department of Education student. With this, the program was formally over.
